MESSAGE

I am glad to note that KIIT Group of Colleges is celebrating its Annual Function on 24th March, 2012 at its KIIT Campus, Sohna Road, Gurgaon, and planning to release its Souvenir which will showcase a range of technical, academic, sports and cultural activities.

Such functions are occasions when students from different institutions, regions and disciplines come together. They are offered a platform to present their skills and talents. They get an opportunity to discuss their ideas and try them. Students broaden their areas of knowledge and interest. They also get an opportunity to listen to speeches of distinguished personalities from Govt. Organization, Academia, Research and Industry, Knowledge is churned and created. This is the main objective of an Educational Institution.

It is very heartening to note that the institute is also emphasizing on value based education alongwith the higher technical education. The institute is also collaborating with national and international institutions of high repute for conducting various types of professional programs for an all round growth of its faculty and students.

I am sure the competitions and interactions of this Festival will lead to fruitful exchange of ideas and leave an indelible mark on these young and bright minds.
